ARCHITECT	Perkins + Will

Greater MSP is a regional economic development organization with the mission to accelerate job growth and capital investment by helping companies expand or relocate operations to the Greater Minneapolis area.

RJM created an open and efficient space that encourages collaboration and reinforces Greater MSP's mission and brand. The entry features beautiful imagery from around the region and an interactive monitor in the reception area which allows guests and visitors to discover key attributes of the 16-county region. The project includes the reception and break area, conference rooms, and informal collaboration areas all tied together with bright finishes and modern furniture. A unique feature in the space is reclaimed wood from discarded trees in Minneapolis through an organization called 'Wood from the Hood,' used as an accent wall and meeting table in the office space.
